Buyer's Guide

90+ years in publishing...

Each issue of World Grain offers informative operation features for grain handling, flour milling and feed processing, as well as industry news, relevant special reports, commodity market updates, new product technology and in-depth looks at industry activities around the globe.

Published twice per month, Food Business News is a "Must Read" for the food industry. Get important information on ingredient markets, new products, marketing trends, consumer trends, government regulations, company news and industry news features.

In 2013, we will publish 6 very special issues of Dairy Business News, focusing on six very innovative companies in the dairy industry.

Each of our six issues of Beverage Business News will feature one of the largest and most active beverage companies in the world.

You'll benefit from the wealth of information Milling & Baking News puts in your hands on a timely basis. It's the news magazine of grain-based foods — full of information that's crucial to executives and managers whose jobs demand thorough and accurate reporting. Everything critical to grain-based foods is covered — industry news and analysis, ingredient markets and in-depth feature articles focusing on the issues and events important to grain-based foods.

Baking & Snack specializes in in-depth, actionable information that helps bakeries and snack food manufacturers run their plants more efficiently and their companies more effectively. It offers news, company and plant reports; ingredient and technical features; processing and engineering articles; new products showcase; industry trends, statistics and data.

bake is the magazine as enterprising as today's independent baker in the retail, foodservice and intermediate wholesale industry. Every issue features special reports on business issues affecting small- to mid-size bakery owners. Regular columns cover taxes, management, labor, legislation and ingredient markets, as well as tips for cost-efficient bread, cake and cafe production. Equipment, ingredient and labor-saving products also are showcased, making bake hands down the magazine for today's on-premise baking entrepreneur.

With detailed emphasis on product trends, merchandising ideas and consumer insights, instore magazine is a wellspring of ideas to plan with confidence and creativity. The magazine serves supermarket executives relevant solutions and new ways to think about meeting consumer needs.

Meat&Poultry provides the trends, issues and technologies that effect the North American meat, poultry and seafood industry. Our editors tackle government regulations, labor relations, food safety and quality control. Everyone from processors and further processors to wholesalers, distributors, fresh meat packers, pet food manufacturers, and meat, poultry and seafood buyers will find Meat&Poultry an invaluable source.

the First Section

November 13, 2013

Dear Attendees, Exhibitors and Guests,

On behalf of all of us here at your Chicago Section IFT may I welcome you to Chicago and the 2013 Chicago Section IFT Suppliers' Night!

This year we are pleased to celebrate our 51st Suppliers' Night since the inception of the Chicago Section. From just 11 exhibitors at our first event to 500 exhibitors and 3,000 attendees tonight, the CSIFT Suppliers' Night has grown to become "must do" event on the calendar of the U.S. food industry. We are pleased you could join us here today.

Our "Innovation NOW! Forum" is now in its sixth year of featuring presentations from leading industry professionals focused on cutting edge technologies, products, industry services and equipment. There are a total of six one hour presentations spread over three conference rooms beginning at 10:00 AM. Dr. Theodore P. Labuza from the University of Minnesota will close the Forum with his keynote address on the "Use of SERS for Rapid Detection of Contaminants: a New Analytical Challenge." Please consult the Forum Brochure for presentation details, times and room locations.

The Expo will begin at noon and run through 5:30 PM. Once again we have 500 exhibitors here this evening offering the technologist the latest in leading food ingredients, processing technologies, laboratory equipment and other services.

We will conclude Suppliers' Night with the Social Hour running from 5:30-6:30 PM. Please take moment to gather with us in the registration area to socialize with peers, enjoy the refreshments and close the 51st Suppliers' Night.

Now, Go Enjoy The Show!

Sincerely,

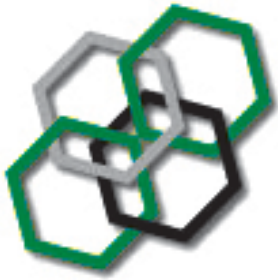

James N. Anderson

Ashland — your food and beverage technology resource

Creating value through applications knowledge, market insight, and a powerful product portfolio

Ashland is a world leader in cellulosic food ingredients. Our premium additives and stabilizers enable healthier, tastier, and more convenient foods.

Ashland's stabilizers and gums are recognized throughout the world for quality, consistency and performance. Ashland manufactures these ingredients, from renewable raw materials, in cGMP facilities in the U.S., Europe, and Asia.

We do more than just manufacture – our products are also supported by a global network of research and application scientists and technically trained salespeople. Proper selection of additives can be a challenge. Our goal is to work with our customers' research and development or applications teams to make their lives easier by providing guidance on product selection.

Since the 1950s, our solutions and expertise have enabled formulators to break new ground in food and beverage performance.

The possibilities are all around you

- Reduce oil uptake
- Enhance mouthfeel
- Stabilize protein drinks and yogurts
- Improve shelf life of baked goods
- Develop creamy, stable whipped toppings and fillings
- Enhance gluten-free formulations
- Reduce costs by replacing other hydrocolloids
- Produce clear beverages and syrups
- Improve performance of sauces, batters and breadings
- Produce thermally reversible gels

Put us to work for you. Contact us now to discuss your project needs. Please contact your local Ashland Specialty Ingredients representative, email us at food@ashland.com or visit us at ashland.com/iftsn/food+beverage.

Our pioneering technology targets and evaporates water molecules without disturbing the active enzymes, anti-oxidants, vitamins or minerals in the original material. Within minutes, freshly picked produce becomes a fine powder that retains 100 percent nutrition, as well as full flavor, aroma and color. Our powders retain the integrity of farm-fresh fruits and vegetables better than spray- or even freeze-dried powders.
