NEWS FROM THE UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS AT URBANA-CHAMPAIGN DEPARTMENT OF FOOD SCIENCE AND HUMAN NUTRITION Association of Food Technologists

During October, AFT had multiple companies hold information sessions, as well as our general meeting. Newly Weds Foods came on October 4th and PepsiCo came on October 10th. Both companies were recruiting students for possible fulltime or summer internship opportunities in various locations across the country.

We had a great turn out at both events and lots of Papa Del's pizza! Later this month on October 24th we are expecting Diageo to come back to campus for a special internship workshop, a first for the FSHN department, which aims to help students with resumes and interviewing.

There were a variety of social events this month to welcome in the fall weather. Visiting the Urbana Farmer's Market on September 29th in which everyone had a good time shopping for local produce and delicious baked goods. In addition, we also had a Chili on the Quad fundraiser October 11th - 13th where we prepared vegetable and seasonal pumpkin chili for two dollars per bowl. Including this year a pumpkin painting event held on October 16th, which was a great success.

The AFT selected a second historian for our club7 Steven Yang, who is will be responsible for maintaining our websites and event photography. October is barely halfway through, but we are eagerly planning our next events and meetings for the fall semester.
